

THE MUNY

KWOFE COLEMAN

Managing Director

Kwofe Coleman began his Muny career in 1998 as an usher and has served as the managing director since 2018. Over the last two decades, he has advanced through several other positions at The Muny, including staff accountant, house manager, digital communications manager and director of marketing and communications.

Currently, as managing director, he oversees the organizational and business affairs of The Muny, while embracing and articulating the artistic and institutional vision, developing progressive income streams and new strategic initiatives to deepen the organization's community engagement, educational and outreach efforts. In addition, Kwofe also serves on The Muny's Second Century Committee, a combination of key staff and board members who, together, are now implementing the theatre's Second Century Strategic Plan.

Kwofe is the current president-elect of the National Alliance for Musical Theatre, previously serving as vice president. He was a 2018 Fellowship Advisor for the DeVos Institute of Arts Management at the University of Maryland and is an active contributor to the St. Louis community, serving on the St. Louis University High School Board of Trustees, Cor Jesu Academy Advisory Council, the Advisory Board for Common Circles and as a proud founding board member of Atlas School. He also serves on the Board of Directors for the Saint Louis Club, as well other various social service organizations. During the 2020 holiday season, Kwofe served as executive producer for A New Holiday, a short musical film created by LIFE Creative Group.

He is a 2015 recipient of the St. Louis American's Salute to Young Leaders Award and an inductee into the 2020 St. Louis Business Journal 40 under 40.
